Sales of firewood, long underwear brisk in East

By United Press International

The fuel shortage sent many Americans to work today from cooler homes to cooler offices, in cars not supposed to go faster than 50 miles an hour and with news that a heavy gasoline tax or rationing of auto fuel is likely before

Two top administration energy experts said chances are good for gasoline rationing before the end of winter, and the New York Times and the Washington Post both reported the administration is considering a 40-cent

Two Boston area dealers said they were out of wood and, "it may be weeks before we get more."

Long underwear was also in great demand. Wally Smith, a buyer for a recreational equipment store that stocks supplies of mountaineering and skiing gear, said, "A sudden run on such apparel could exhaust our stocks. Resupply took a month last year. It may take three months or more this year."

In New York and New Jersey, highway speed limits were lowered to 50 miles an hour, and motorists in about a dozen other states or major cities were asked to observe the 50 m.p.h

limit voluntarily. Robert Faulkner, regional superintendant of maintenance for Continental Trailways bus lines, responding to recent New York and New Jersey directives to reduce highway speed limits to 50 m.p.h., said diesel bus engines function at top efficiency only at speeds of 60 mph and above.

"At lower speeds it has a tendency to run cooler and less efficiently," he

The energy shortage has caused many communities to forego plans for bright Christmas lighting displays of years past. In New Hampshire, Gov. Meldrim Thomson suggested an oldfashioned Christmas with popcorn and cookies on trees instead of lights.

"People can decorate their trees with popcorn, cookies and things like that, but it would be best if they held off on lighting to save electricity," Thomson said. "If you and I do not make the sacrifices necessary to conserve energy many of the workers in our factories and plants are going to be unemployed this winter."

A number of major New Hampshire industries rely on propane gas in their processes, and it is in short supply.

The Washington Post said the White House is considering a tax of between 30 and 40 cents a gallon on gasoline to discourage excessive driving. But the paper said economists feared it would take too much spending power out of circulation.

The New York Times, in a similar report, said one option being considered is a "refundable tax" which could be returned by reducing income tax.

New legislation readied

Talk grows of gasoline rationing by early '74

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Gasoline raticning by early 1974 or before was foreseen by several administration and congressional leaders today. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chief sponsor of emergency energy legislation, said the sooner it comes, the better.

Jackson called together the Senate Interior Committee, which he heads, to put the finishing touches on legislation embodying many recommendations proposed by President Nixon last week. Jackson said the bill would be approved today and predicted Senate passage Wednesday.

Among the provisions of the legislation is clear standby authority for the administration to ration gasoline. Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton and Charles DiBona, deputy White House energy adviser, both said rationing was likely early next year.

Jackson said today: "The sooner we we will save and the less traumatic the effect. If we delay it, it'll just whambo! I mean, we'll get hit so hard, they'll say why didn't you tell us earlier? ... The faster we get our machinery moving, the better."

Morton described the chances of rationing as about 50-50, although he said he did not think it could be implemented before the first of the year.

DiBona said, "I think the probabilities of having gasoline rationing before the winter is over are very high."

Morton said if rationing does come, it could last up to two years. Jackson said he too saw it lasting for an extended period and possibly extending into other areas.

Jackson warned on the NBC-TV Today Show of "the fallout effect, the ripple effect, growing out of energy"

A six-point Egyptian-Israeli agreement was signed Sunday in a green army tent in the Egyptian desert at Kilometer 101, about 60 miles from Cairo, and the two generals who signed it returned to the scene today to try to straighten out the latest difficulties.

The latest snag came over interpretation of the agreement. Israeli dispatches said the agreement called for immediate exchange of prisoners of war but that Egypt was giving priority to opening of a relief corridor to Suez City and the trapped 3rd Egyptian Army. Israel also was reported raising some questions over exact operation of the supply corridor.

Pomonan stabbed to death after party; 3 booked

LA VERNE - A Pomona man was stabbed to death on a restaurant parking lot here early Sunday as an estimated 300 to 400 persons were leaving a birthday party.

The victim, Jon Balfour Soupcoff, 23, 508 Meadow Lane, was pronounced dead on arrival at Pomona Valley Community Hospital. He had been stabbed at least four times, authorities

The stabbing occurred when several small fights broke out on the parking lot of the La Verne Inn at 1520 N. White Ave. The place formerly was known as Vic's Steak House and the La Chaim Restaurant.

Three Pomona men were booked on suspicion of murder. They are Tommy A. Lopez, 21, of 2946 Lublin Ave., Raymond M. Rendon Jr., 20, of 1253 W. 4th Street, and Randal Lee Marx, 19, of 2267 S. Palomares St. They remained in the La Verne City jail today without Police Chief Jack Baker said although the party was held in La Verne, its participants were virtually all from out of town, mostly from Pomona.

Detective D. F. Griggs said that fewer than 10 persons actually were involved in the fights and that the rest of those leaving the party stayed out of it. Arriving officers found Soupcoff staggering away from one fight, bleeding heavily from knife wounds in his

The reason for the trouble was not determined, Griggs said. He said the crowd was leaving, shortly after 2 a.m., when a small number of young men began challenging each other. At one point about six were on top of one, he said. The dispute seemed to have been between Mexican-Americans and Anglos, according to reports. Police declined to say whose party it was, other than to say it was for a young Pomona man and his sister. The affair was on the second floor of the restaurant.

The report, dealing with the period from April 1970, the date of the last official census, to January 1973, indicates that the county's population increase has slowed to a crawl during the past two years, and is now stabilizing at slightly more than 7 million.

Even though Pomona has recorded a substantial loss for the statistical period - from 87,348 to 83,853 - it relargest city. This is because other cities of comparable size also registered losses in population.

On the plus side, La Verne led the Pomona Valley with a growth of nearly 10 per cent since the last census, increasing its population from 12,965 to 14.213 as of last Jan. 1.

San Dimas went from 15,692 to 16,-067, Walnut from 5,992 to 6,117, and Claremont, from 23,998 to 24,007.

The largest gain in the county was registered by Cerritos which went from a population of 15,859 to 35,246 during the statistical period.

Two key conversations

President to give judge additional tapes, notes

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Nixon announced today he would turn over additional tapes and memoranda to Judge John J. Sirica so that the court could determine the substance of two critical presidential conversations on Watergate that the White House says were never recorded.

In a lengthy statement, Nixon expressed confidence that the new information would prove "that these two conversations were never recorded (and) public doubt on this issue will be completely and satisfactorily removed."

The President also agreed to allow court - approved, independent experts examine the additional tapes to attest to their authenticity.

"It is my hope that these steps will clear up this aspect of the Watergate matter once and for all," he said. Specifically, Nixon offered to fur-

40 per cent chance of rain

The weatherman gives the Pomona Valley a 40 per cent chance of rain for tonight and Tuesday from a storm that pelted Northern California Sunday.

Heavy rains in Northern California brought concern over possible floods from the rising levels of the Eel, Napa, Sacramento and Russian rivers.

These rivers were reported to be at flood levels from the heavy rain which came down within a 24-hour period where over an inch was reported in most areas and 31/2 inches reported at Blue Canyon. Rain was reported Sunday from Visalia in the San Joaquin Valley to Santa Barbara.

Today's dreary and cloudy weather came after a sunny and warm Sunday which sent temperatures in Pomona Valley to 85 degrees.

Temperatures should reach 74 degrees today in Pomona and 67 degrees

Safest U.S. cities listed

NEW YORK (UPI) - Is there a safe city to live in anymore?

Yes, according to an article in the current issue of Esquire Magazine.

They are Lakewood, Ohio; Rome, N.Y.; Weymouth, Mass.; Utica, N.Y.; Nashua, N.H.; Euclid, Ohio; Provo, Utah; Greenwich, Conn.; Florissant, Mo., and Westland, Mich.

Franke ranked 393 metropolitan areas by comparing the number of reported felonies in every U.S. city of 50,000 or more with each city's population. He used figures from 1970 and 1971, the latest years for which complete statistics are available.

The Franke article also listed the nine most crime-ridden cities-in order of descending crime rate. They are Compton, Calif.; Newark, N.J.; Detroit, Mich.; Pontiac, Mich., San Francisco, Calif.; Wilmington, Del.; Oakland, Calif.; Cambridge, Mass.; Denver, Colo., and Washington D.C.

'Stringbean,' wife killed by burglars

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) - The lanky "Stringbean" of the Grand Ole Opry and "Hee Haw," David Akeman, and his wife were shot to death early Sunday when they returned from a performance and apparently surprised burglars at their isolated farm home.

The bodies of Akeman, 58, and his wife, Estelle, 60, were found by another Oprv star, Louis "Grandpa" Jones, who arrived just after dawn to pick them up for a fishing trip.

Akeman was sprawled on the living room floor, his wife lay in weeds about 20 yards from the red frame house that sits on a 300-acre lot at the end of a country road.

They had been shot to death by burglars, police said

"From all indications, he came home and surprised them in the act and was shot," said Detective Lt. Tom Cathey. Akeman had been shot once. Mrs. Akeman, who apparently was in the car when her husband entered the home and fled when she heard the shot, was felied by three shots.

"We believe he had several thousand dollars on him," the detective said. "The house had been ransacked and they apparently were looking for money which Mr. Akeman, 'Stringbean,' was thought to have been carrying."

Cathey would not say what the thief or thieves made off with, but what they did not get was a priceless banjo willed to Akeman by the legendary Uncle Dave Macon. The five-string instrument was found sitting on the porch of the farm house.

Cathey said detectives were questioning four persons Sunday, but he declined to call them suspects.

He said seven bank books were found in the Akemans' three-room home. Sources said the books showed the simple-living Stringbean had salted away more than a half a million dollars

George Mendoza of Hanford, father of the two victims, said he was driving to a campground about 25 miles north of here early Saturday and his sons, Jose, 18, and Samuel, 11, were riding in the camper section.

Mendoza said when he arrived at the campground he checked on the boys and thought they were asleep but later discovered they were not breathing.

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) - Two bodies tossed carelessly among tall water reeds in the remote Sierras brought to 18 today the number of killings lin-. ked to massacre suspects Douglas E. Gretzler and Willie L. Steelman.

Arizona and California detectives investigating a two-state murder spree found the bodies Sunday in the tules near Knights Ferry, at a location pinpointed by the jailed suspects.

Gretzler, 22, and Steelman, 28, were definitely linked with 18 cold-blooded "execution" murders that began in Arizona in mid-October and climaxed last Wednesday with the slaying of nine persons in the tiny Northern California town of Victor.

The slashed bodies found Sunday were believed to be those of Mike Ad-. shade and Ken Unrein, both 21, who were kidnaped in Phoenix, Ariz. Oct. 16. The suspects told detectives they killed the two kidnap victims because they kept pleading to be freed.

Teen-agers blamed in violent deaths

By United Press International

Teen-age boys were blamed during the weekend for four Southern California incidents in which five persons were killed -two train derailments and two shootings.

A 13-year-old Lawndale boy was arrested early Sunday at his home and held on suspicion of trainwrecking and murder in the derailment of a freight train which killed a woman in Manhattan Beach Saturday night. The 52-car train swung onto a dead-end spur because a switch had been opened, and crashed into parked boxcars at 25 miles per hour. The fourunit locomotive and 10 cars careened off the tracks onto Manhattan Beach boulevard, smashing autos.

Margarita Eubanks, 36, was crushed to death in her car, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith of Redondo Beach were injured.

Police said the switch was usually locked, but it had been opened, apparently by a key that was stolen from other railroad equipment in the area several weeks ago.

The Santa Fe Railroad estimated the damage at $50,000.

In Ventura, two boys, 15 and 16, were held on charges of involuntary manslaughter for allegedly tampering with the air brakes on tank cars filled with liquid propane. The cars rolled down a siding and onto the Southern Pacific main line track, colliding headon with an oncoming freight train last week. ## 2 shootings over weekend injure four PCMONA - Four persons were shot, two of them children, in two separate incidents here Sunday.

Most seriously wounded was 9-year-old Napoleon Demison, 1047 W. Eighth St. He was shot in the chest with a .38caliber bullet and underwent surgery for its removal at Pomona Valley Community Hospital. His condition today was termed poor in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Napoleon and Milton Green, 7, of 1059 W. Eighth St., were shot Sunday evening while they were standing in front of 1059 W. Eighth St., police reported. Officers later booked 21-year-old David Earl Sherman, 1175 S. Parcells St., on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Investigators said the shooting was the result of a dispute between the Demison and the Sherman families. They said that when one of the Demisons arrived with a rifle, Sherman got his mother's .38 and the shooting followed.

The victims of the second shooting were Beverly Ann Cloward, 33, and Vernon Day Turpin, 34, of 552 W. Maple St., Ontario. Mrs. Cloward was wounded in the lower abdomen and Turpin was shot in the thumb. Mrs. Cloward was reported in good condition today at Pomona Valley Community Hospital and Turpin was released after treatment at the Pomona Medical Group.

Police booked Mason Edward Dugins 39, of 1148 W. Sixun St., on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. They reported that the shooting here followed an earlier dispute between Dugins and Nancy Ann Cloward, 19, 554 W. Maple St., Ontario. They said that the shooting occurred at 3:30 a.m. at Dugins' home when the dispute was resumed there.

Woman, 19, raped by intruder

MONTCLAIR - A 19-yearold college student was raped early Sunday morning when a man pried off a screen and entered an apartment in the 9300 block of Mills Avenue, police reported.

Police said it appeared though the man pried off the kitchen window screen, opened the window while the woman was asleep in her bedroom. Officers said the man undressed in the hallway and entered the woman's bedroom where he awakened her and poked a knife in her throat. The moman said the man threatened to kill her if she did not submit.

Police said after committing the rape the man dressed and left the apartment through the front door.

The woman described the man as a Caucasian, 17 to 30, 5 feet 6 to 5 feet 8 inches tall, 130 to 150 pounds with close cropped hair.

No Watergate under Johnson, says Lady Bird

WASHINGTON (UPI) - In her first television interview since her husband died almost 11 months ago, Lady Bird Johnson says the Watergate scandal could not have happened during her husband's administration. She said President Lyndon B. Johnson "minded every detail as best he could."

Mrs. Johnson, in a Group W News interview Sunday, was asked whether her husband would have allowed anything like Watergate to occur during his political campaigns.

"I do not think so,' she said. "I grieve for it as a citizen of this country because it's got to spill out on both parties and on all people. It's not purely just one segment.

But, grieved or not, my faith in the ultimate fabric of this country is strong as ever, and Lyndon was certainly a man who minded every detail as best he could."

Girl, 3, gets new liver

NEW YORK (UPI) Physicians say they will not know for certain until next week whether a liver transplant on a 3-year-old girl was successful, but as of today she was in good condition and doing well.

Lisa Klingelsmith, of Alden, N.Y., has suffered since birth from a lack of bile ducts, which prevented her liver from purifying her blood. Saturday, the liver of a child who died in Buffalo was flown to New York, where it was transplanted.

A spokesman said the girl was "in good condition and doing well," although it will be a week or more before physicians will know for sure whether her body will accept the new organ.

A few months ago, the Lions Club in Alden, a Buffalo suburb, started a "Liver for Lisa" fund, which has raised $40,000 towards the cost of the operation and treatment.

The best solution to the problem of the corporate wife may be "to eliminate her," Dr. Seidenberg writes, "and her demise is not far in the future."

That doesn't mean successful executives should be bachelors, and play the field for feminine companionship, he says. Nor does he advocate a return to an era early in this century when many American companies forbade salesmen and younger executives to marry and fired them if they did: Laws and court decisions put an end to that.

But Dr. Seidenberg says that no American corporation now is able to structure its executive family without taking into account the attitudes and rights of executive wives.

He believes that the much publicized executive rat race is far tougher on corporate. wives than on their husbands, that this is grossly unfair and women no longer will tolerate it.

The new bees originated in Brazil in 1957 when beekeepers imported a group of African queen bees, hoping to breed their desirable highhoney producing abilities into the native European bees.

Realizing the aggressive nature of the African bees, breeders used special hives to contain them until a safe and acceptable hybrid race could be developed.

DEAR READER - You are to be congratulated on such a full and obviously rewarding life. And, you seem to do very well in expressing your problem.

I'm afraid that all of your problems are related to the same thing. The changes in your arteries are probably causing your dizziness, memory problems and your angina. People often forget that the disease that causes heart attacks and angina is really a disease of the arteries. It can affect any arte-

By JOSEPH FIRMAN

For some years now - well, it certainly SEEMS like years - the publishing world has been agape at the agonized mutations of a funny little weekly magazine by and for the intellec-

Out of Literary Digest by Smart Set, the Saturday Review of Literature was an entertaining and informative periodical of impressive erudition and wordiness. Its raison d'etre, reviewing literature, gradually expanded under that man-for-all-seasons, Norman Cousins, to include reviews of music, drama, art, ballet, records and the deplorable state of mankind. Cousins knew you couldn't call a magazine The Staturday Review of Literature, Music, Drama, Art, Ballet, Records and the Deplorable State of Mankind, so he changed the name to a simple Saturday Review and reviewed whatever he felt like every Saturday.

By some involution or convolution or palace revolution, Saturday review then came under two men who had the notion of devoting each issue to a particular topic and the magazine suddenly divided, amoeba-like, into four monthly magazines: SR-The Arts, SR-Education, SR-The Soceity and SR-Science. Country Cousins decided he couldn't serve two masters, so he shaped up and shipped out. Napoleon at Elba.

But the publishing world had not seen the last of SR's lost leader. Taking with him a sizeable platoon of editors and columnists, Cousins started a new magazine. In less time than it takes to file a change-of-address notice, World magazine appeared on the news stalls.

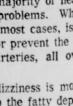

The new publication, Deo gratias, was a reasonable facsimile of the old SR, and hundreds of thousands of subscribers happily emigrated to the new World. Names like John Ciardi, Goodman Ace, Hollis Alpert and Buckminster Fuller exerted their gravitational pull on readers; advertisers scuffled to sign contracts, and publisher Spencer Grin laughed all the way to the bank. Cousins, however, like a dissatisfied Alexander, looked around for new Worlds to conquer.

He found one when the old Saturday Review, now divided in partes quater, fell upon evil days. By still another intricate feat of publishing legerdemain, faltering SR merged with flourishing World, and the legion of loyal subscribers sighed with relief at the home-again feeling of Saturday Review World.

There's a sense of deja vu about the new periodical, and the readers couldn't be happier. Ace's "Top of My Head," Cleveland Amory's "Curmudgeon-at-Large," Ciardi's "Manner of Speaking" mingle with Cousins' thoughtful editorials, book and music reviews, articles on science and travel, and chess puzzles and double-acrostics.

It's been a long journey from the Saturday Review of Literature, to Saturday Review, to the quadruple SR to Saturday Review World, but all's well that ends well.

We now have the best of all possible Worlds.

RAY BRADBURY

Redevelopment Week features Bradbury lecture

POMONA - "Give Us a Reason To Come to Your City" will be the topic of a talk Tuesday by author and lecturer Ray Bradbury, featured speaker during Pomona Redevelopment Week which began Sunday.

Bradbury's talk is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers which accommodates an audience of about 140. Additional chairs will be placed in the City Hall lobby where a public address system will be set up to carry the talk.

Bradbury has published more than 350 short stories, novels and poems in the past 33 years.

He wrote the screenplay for John Huston's film, "Moby Dick," and films have been made of his novels, "Fahrenheit 451," "The Illustrated Man," and "The Picasso Summer."

His latest novel is "The Halloween Tree," and his first book of poetry, "When Elephants Last in the Dooryard Bloomed," will be published late this autumn by Knopf.

He formed his own theater group in Los Angeles in 1964, the Pandemonium Theater Company, to produce his own play, "The Wonderful Ice Cream Suit." More recently, his stage writing includes "Leviathan 99" and a new play, "Pillar of Fire," which will be produced this fall.

Bradbury lectures twice yearly at the Architectural College at USC and in 1964 formed his own Citizens' Rapid Transit Group with Frank Lloyd Wright Jr. to promote better forms of transportation in Southern California.

Also scheduled during Redevelopment Week are seminars Tuesday and Wednesday mornings at 10 at Great Western Savings and Loan Association, and Thursday, also at 10, at the Pomona Chamber of Commerce.

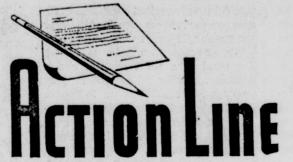

The week's activities will culminate Friday with a civic luncheon where Pasadena Mayor Donald Yokaitis will deliver the speech, "Your Community Stake in Redevelopment."

The luncheon will start with a social hour at 11:30 a.m. Tickets at $3.75 per person may be purchased from the Chamber of Commerce.

Youth Commission will meet Tuesday

POMONA - An organizational meeting of the Pomona Youth Commission will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the City Hall Engineering conference

The commissioners will elect a chairman and vice chairman and draw lots for terms of office.

Both sides yield over spa, ending tug-o-war

We have signed a contract with a San Gabriel Valley swimming pool firm to install a seven-foot spa. The spa has been completed.

The company claiming to represent the swimming pool firm left a bottle of acid with us to treat the water in the spa.

The paint inside the spa has been eaten away by acid. The pool company has now informed us that we were not supposed to use acid and that is why the spa is damaged.

Representatives of the swimming pool company first claimed that it was not their fault. Now they agree that it was their fault but want us to lie to the manufacturer of the spa and say that we never used acid in the water so that they can in turn sue the manufacturer of the spa if it is not replaced.

They now claim that if we do not pay the money owed them they will take legal action against us. We need help! - R. C.,

We wrote the swimming pool company twice. More than three weeks after the second letter, we received an answer. The swimming company president said he was surprised that you had complained.

He said you had been informed several times that no work would be done on your property until the balance due of $300 was sent to the company. You, he reported, have ignored these

According to the company president, the cause of the spa turning brown in color has been investigated and found to be be due to overchlorination.

The firm has now received your check for $300 and has had a crew work on your pool. The company president describes the work as an acid wash to take brown stains off and says it was done as a matter of courtesy only.

John Bonsangue, president of the organization, said that his volunteers have a lot of work to do to be ready for the holiday this year.

"The toys are really coming in now, but the big problem is getting them ready," he said. Some of the toys, he explained, may not be ready in time and will be held over for next year.

"There aren't going to be as many riding toys available this year. We just haven't received very many units," he

The organization's new headquarters is at 185 Pomona Mall West. Toys will be repaired in one part of the facility and distributed from the other.

Last year Santa Claus Inc. gave more than 3,000 toys to children from about 350 Pomona families. Bonsangue expects a similar number this year.

"Parents from the area will be invited down on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 21 and 22, to pick out and take home the toys for their children," he explained.

Civic organizations that have aided Santa Claus, Inc., during the drive and collection program this year are the Pomona Kiwanis Club, the Pomona Junior Women's Club, the Pomona Lawn Bowlers Club and the Senior Citizens Touring Club. Pomona school children have also donated toys during drives at each school.

Opinion

The problems with impeachment

Watergate is developing such momentum that each day brings some new and startling development. Editorial comments are valid only for the newspaper edition in which they appear - if they hold up that long.

Even in a story that already has so many convolutions that historians will be years in unraveling it, is a stunning revelation that two of the most crucial Watergate tapes simply don't exist and ne-

One, a conversation between President Nixon and former attorney general John Mitchell three days after the capture of the Watergate burglars, was not taped, the White House says, because it was on a telephone extension not hooked up with the recorder in the Oval Office.

The other, which might have substantiated or repudiated ex-White House counsel John Dean's most damning allegation against the President, went unrecorded because of a malfunction in the machine.

Bizarre is the only word for all this.

The nation went to the brink of presidential impeachment, and still hangs there, because of Mr. Nixon's refusal to release the tapes to Watergate Judge John J. Sirica. Then, under intense public and congressional pressure, he relented.

Now, we are told, two of the tapes that might have gone far toward establishing the President's innocence or complicity in the Watergate coverup just aren't available in this world.

It is useless to speculate on whether the White House is telling the truth. There are some who discounted the importance of the tapes from the beginning. There are other documents, they say - letters, notes of meetings, memoranda - in the possession of the executive branch that are far more crucial to the investigation.

It was his insistence on obtaining this material, so the rumors have it, that really led to the bouncing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox. And it is this kind of "privileged" material, the President himself has said, which will not be made available to Cox' successor. Thus the question, now that the tapes in which the nation invested such overriding concern have evaporated into thin air, is what remedy or remedies remain in the hands of Congress or the courts.

It begins to appear that a full-scale impeachment proceeding against the President, against which the barrier of executive privilege could not prevail, may be the only way to get at the truth. But the problem here is that the Constitution specifies impeachable offenses as "treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors." The impeachment process is, first of all, an inquiry conducted by the House of Representatives into one or more of those charges brought against a civil officer of the United States. It may or may not lead to actual impeachment - indictment - and trial by the Senate. This presents a curious and difficult situation. The House, lacking any hard evidence against Richard Nixon, would nevertheless have to charge him with some offense (probably under the broad heading of "misdemeanors") simply in order to obtain the information which would enable it to discover whether any offense had been committed at all. It would, in effect, be a kind of inquisition, and not many members of Congress are eager at this juncture to take such a drastic step.

Along with all its other effects, Watergate is

American taxpayers ripped off

WASHINGTON - President Nixon's people tried to stick the taxpayers, apparently, for every possible petty bill at his estate in San Clemente and Key Biscayne, Fla.

We have gone through a stack of bills and memos, never intended to be read outside the presidential circle. These show the taxpayers were charged for everything from stamping his golf tees with the presidential logo to furnishing his private San Clemente restroom with his favorite soap.

The usual explanation out of the White House has been that the government pays for renovations involving the President's security. The documents in our possession, however, show that the taxpayers were soaked for dozens of improvements never requested by the Secret Service.

This has also been established by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., after a thorough investigation by his House Government Operations subcommittee.

Smoky fireplace The President apparently complained, for example, about the fireplace smoking in his den. The problem was turned over to his attorney, Herbert Kalmbach, who squawked to the Warren B. Sturtevant, the contractor, hustled over to the San Clemente retreat and personally lit fires in the presidential fireplace, he reported, "on January 4th, 1971, the day before the President arrived and again on January 18th, after he had left. Both times the fireplace worked properly.

"I also understand that there were only two occasions out of about 10 possible times used where there was a smoking problem. My conclusion is that on the two occasions when the fireplace did smoke there must have been a different wind condition that caused a down draft." He recommended installing an exhaust fan. The Secret Service at first resisted paying for the fan until Kalmbach's secretary, Marilyn Parent, had a meaningful talk with the agent in charge. She reported afterward to Sturtevant:

"Ken Iacovone informed me that SS would pay for the installation of the fireplace fan after I informed him that it definitely was placed for security purposes and how would he like it if you know who was asphyxiated because there was a certain wind condition which caused the draft to come downwards and caused the smoke to come into the room. He finally agreed with me." Cost to the taxpayers: $388.78.

The Secret Service was also persuaded to restore Pat Nixon's favorite gazebo, although it had been rejected as a security outpost. The First Lady's social secretary, Constance Stuart, explained the problem in a February, 15, 1971, memo to Mrs. Nixon.

"I've looked into the matter of the restoration of the gazebo at San Clemente," Mrs. Stuart reported. "The gazebo in question is the one closest to the ocean overlooking the point and it evidently is in sad need of repair.

"The Secret Service will not be taking this gazebo over as one of the posts. They would like to place some small electronic scaning (sic) devices in an already existing cabinet .

'In good taste' "The gazebo would be restored to its original condition. . . . I have been assured this work would be done in good taste and that the ultimate result would be as close to the original as possible."

The First Lady scratched an "OK" Mrs. Stuart re ferred it tothe General Service Administration's special projects officer, John F. Galuardi.

"Jack," she noted. "As you can see PN has OK'd the work."

An earlier June 30, 1969, report to the White House on the San Clemente complex states: "Mr. Galuardi has already informed you that he would have a carpenter, electrician, plumber, and an air conditioning-refrigeration mechanic on hand at all times, with a total force of twenty various craftsmen available on call. These people will wear the regular GSA green uniform.

"He has also made plans to have a day maid in a white uniform and a sufficient number of cleanrs in grey uniform and black bow tie to furnish cleaning on a 24-hour basis. Linen towels, the preferred soap, and Scott toilet tissue will be provided in the President's restroom.

Fresh flowers

"Arrangements have also been made for a florist to provide freshly cut flowers daily in all offices of the Administration Building." Up to June 30, 1968, according to the financial statements, the taxpayers laid out $4,900 for cut flowers and plants. Of this, $581 was spent on flowers for the President's residence.

At Key Biscayne, the taxpayers have paid for fixtures in the homes not only of the President but also his friend, Bebe Rebozo, next door. One work sheet calls for a "booster tranformer" for "the existing kitchen. . . and for the existing air conditioning and Sauna Bath" at the Rebozo residence.

Special helipad and docking equipment was also requested by the Secret Service for the Coc Lobo, a boat owned by Rebozo.

Dozens of other miscellaneous items, including an ice machine that makes square ice because the President "does not like ice cubes with holes in them," were also billed to the taxpayers.

A White House spokesman complained that the documents were part of a "partisan, unethical" campaign to embarrass the President. The spokesman said that the Secret Service had gone ahead with plans to renovate the San Clemente gazebo before Mrs. Nixon was consulted.

INSIDE REPORT

Nixon unwilling to humble himself

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

WASHINGTON - Dooming the melancholy private dialogue between President Nixon's lieutenants and congressional Republicans is total White House rejection of Capitol Hill's deeply felt need for public penance by the President.

Current negotiations ostensibly concern how much Mr. Nixon shall open his files to save his presidency. But these talks founder over unstated congressional demands that Mr. Nixon somehow confront Congress, perhaps as a committee witness. with a show of expiation and contrition. One influential (and pro-Nixon) Republican Senator feels Mr. Nixon cannot survive unless like Henry II, the 12th century King of England who atoned for the murder of St. Thomas Becket by being publicly scourged, he makes public penance.

That is anathema to the President and all his advisers. Indeed, he is ignoring advice from his own staff to make considerably less humiliating gestures. Thus, whatever agreements are reached between Republican leaders and the Whife House over disclosure of tape recordings and documents, the basic gap will remain unbridged and Republican sentiment for Mr. Nixon's resignation will rise.

The White House's understanding of sentiment on Capitol Hill is even murkier today than in calmer times. Mr. Nixon's aides interpreted conservative Sen. Peter Dominick's criticism of the President Monday as reflecting fear about his 1974 relection campaign in Colorado. In truth, Dominick was saying in public what almost all his colleagues say privately in the Republican cloakroom.

Barrage of recommendations

Republican Senators who still have not uttered a single word critical of Mr. Nixon say privately he must resign once Rep. Gerald Ford is confirmed as Vice President. The barrage of recommendations from Capitol Hill are eleventh-hour efforts to avoid the President's resignation.

Sen. William Brock of Tennessee, a conservative and a Nixon loyalist, recently wrote the President a remarkable letter outlining the steps necessary to save himself - stressing public disclosure not only of tape recordings but of all presidential documents bearing on Watergate. Less sweeping requests are now being negotiated with the White House by Senate Republi-

But tapes and documents will not truly satisfy Congress. Many Republicans feel the President should face interrogation from his legislative peers - perhaps by the Senate Watergate committee. One Republican leader in Congress, in public a total supporter of Mr. Nixon, is privately telling the White House the President must testify because he is "at the end of the road" and no other course remains.

The avowed purpose of calling Mr. Nixon to testify: to probe inconsistencies in Mr. Nixon's confusing explanations of Watergate. Beyond the avowed purpose, however, is the Henry II syndrome: the feeling Mr. Nixon can survive only by hun himself. It is here where all hopes sink of agreement between the President and congressional Republicans.

Rather see impeachment

"If the President has to go up to the Hill, groveling, on his hands and knees, I'd rather see him impeached," one senior Nixon aide told us. A middle-level assistant put it this way: "Are we going to go out crawling on our bellies or are we going to go out swinging?"

Those two presidential assistants are softliners in the White House context. Naturally, then, the hardliners - headed by Richard M. Nixon - are unalterably opposed to any act of penance. Indeed, the President ignores considerably more moderate gestures recommended by his own staff.

Staff proposals for a frank, private discussion of Watergate with Senate and House Republicans have been gathering dust in the Oval Office for weeks. One adviser, usually a hard-liner, is getting nowhere in urging one final try by Mr. Nixon to publicly present his side of the Wategate story. Ernest suggestions from Capitol Hill, such as Sen. Brock's, naturally go

Rather, the old White House refrain that Mr. Nixon can save himself by forgetting Watergate and turning to other matters is sounding again. That may explain cancellation of Mr. Nixon's meeting with his Watergate lawyers Monday in order to deal with the energy crisis. It does explain press secretary Ron Ziegler's reference to the Watergate "foolishness," fully reflecting Mr. Nixon's own view.

In the Senate Republican cloakroom, Ziegler's "foolishness" was considered a repudiation of Sen. Barry Goldwater's plea last Sunday that everybody "cool it." It also shows that while Mr. Nixon's congressional supporters are down to a precious few, not much has changed at the White House. For the short run, that promises Mr. Nixon's continued refusal to display any weakness, much less resigning as President, even as Republican support grows thinner by the day.

PAUL HARVEY

You can pray in these schools! Grand Rapids, Mich.

America's earliest schools were church schools. Public schools are a comparatively recent innovation.. America's first schools were church sponsored; most of our newest ones are.

I read and hear of things going on in young Paul's old high school, and I'm glad he's out of it. Narcotics, thievery, slovenliness, sordid sex, violence.

If young Paul were that young again, I'd have to try to find and hope to af-. ford a private school. Apparently tens of thousands of parents of school-agers in 30 states feel that way. Protestant church schools are everywhere on the While these parents pay the usual taxes for the support of public schools, they are willing to pay extra for a private education for their own children, from $400 to $1,000 a year.

Busing is part of it; resegregation is part of it. And you can "pray" in these

But U.S. News and World Report discovered that the big boom in Protestant church schools is a reaction against rampant student misbehavior in public schools.

Today's typical public school is less a learning environment than it has ever been, particularly in the cities. As church-run schools increase, it is going to become increasingly difficult for communities to pass bond isues for upkeeping public schools. They worry about that.

In Memphis, Tenn., where there is massive cross-town busing this year, public school enrollment is down by 16,500, and Memphis has 8 new private schools in operation. Twenty opened just this year.

Civic leaders, recognizing what's happening, are distributing bumper stickers reading: Keep Our Public Schools Strong. Many are distributed; . few are displayed.

A paradox: Roman Catholic schools, plagued by money problems, are declining. At least 2,778 of them have closed their doors in the past eight years, though Catholic schools still enroll nearly 4 million.

At the same time the Catholic school system was shrinking, the number of nonpublic schools - other than Catholic - increased 66 per cent.

It's not just in the South, In California, 180 new private schools have opened in the last two years. In Kansas City, Mo., there's a new five-unit Christian school system.

The National Assn. of Christian Schools - 311 schools with 60,000 students - headquarters in Wheaton, Ill. A comparable group headquarters in uptrend is both more and less complicated than black-and-white. It reflects a reversion by yesterday's school-agers - today's parents - from a now-discredited philosophy of "do your own thing" to the irrevocable, undeniable advantages of doing the "established" thing.

So, though most private schools are mostly white for economic reasons, the

An imposed solution

I am a person who has always considered himself a rather moderate Democrat. I now fear that the steps President Nixon has taken in dealing with the Justice Department and Special Prosecutor Cox have made it necessary for a more extreme solution than I find pleasant to be imposed. The citizens of this country are no longer polarized between Republican or Democrat, conservative or liberal, constructive positions all, but between a form of amoral apologetics and some sort of impotent cynicism.

The roll call of proven and confessed corruption in this administration is great enough to warrant the resignation of any President, especially one who has the welfare of the people as his motivating force. But to compound the distrust that is naturally associated with such rampant corruption by so tenaciously clinging to power, and by using the very office to protect the personality in that office, is so extremely destructive to the common good and the general confidence in due process, that an imposed solution is surely necessary. With a man of integrity these conclusions would go without saying and would be acted on accordingly and President Nixon obviously has no intention of resigning, and should therefore be impeached with as little ill will as the job requires. He has already compromised the constitutional separation of powers by ignoring the obligation of the executive branch assumed when certain promises were made by Elliot Richardson at his confirmation hearings before the Senate.

Not only did the President not contradict Mr. Richardson at that time, but he actually left the impression that his and Mr. Richardson's image of the role of the Special Prosecutor coincided. It is obvious, therefore, that the President is using shady and questionable areas of the constitution as make-shift stop-gap defenses against the complete and unblemished investigation of the Watergate crimes that he has promised us.

The best way to escape this arbitrary and legalistic approach that the President has adopted is to force our whole government to return by the most direct course to unquestionable due process. Since the executive is unwilling to take this course, the Congress must facilitate the impeachment of this President and the inauguration of another who has no vested interest. either direct or through association, in the outcome of the investigation.

Whether or not the President is inviolation of a court order is question enough to begin the proceedings. I am confident that the Senate, having all the information at hand at that time, will be able to make a just determination of his eligibility to continue to serve.-Charles J. Ingram, Montclair.

Olof doesn't regret his Nixon blasts, but still wants envoy exchange

STOCKHOLM (UPI) -Premier Olof Palme says he does not regret his two 1972 Christmas messages to President Nixon denouncing the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, but he hopes for resumption of full ambassadorial relations between Sweden and the United States.

Palme, 46, said in an exclusive interview in his office that his comments to Nixon had been misinterpreted as comparing Nixon with Hitler. Palme retained the premiership last month when his Social Democrat party and the Communists won exactly half the 350 seats in Parliament.

Lighting a cigarette and leaning back in a plush black chair and with his feet on a coffee table, he said, "I do not regret making the statements which I hoped made a small contribution towards the movement of peace. I do regret the statements were misrepresented in comparing President Nixon with Hitler."

Palme's Dec. 23, 1972, note to Nixon called the Hanoi Christmas bombings an "outrage" and he compared them with several bombings ordered by Hitler in World War II. He did not, however, mention Hitler by name.

"After I read the statement on television I was asked just one question: "are you comparing Nixon with Hitler" and I said, "certainly not"."

That note, followed by one the next day urging Nixon to stop the bombing, caused the State Department to tell Sweden that a new ambassador to fill its vacancy in Washington would not be welcome. The last American ambassador to Stockholm left in August, 1972, and has not been replaced. His face still showing the strain of the election campaign, Palme, whose unruly hair looks like a crewcut grown long, said he would like an exchange of ambassadors but Washington would have to take the initiative.

"We have always said we are prepared to exchange ambassadors," he said. "The practical consequences of not having ambassadors are not very large, but in this modern world we should have ambassadors."

He agreed with comments by the American embassy and his own foreign ministry that Swedish-American relations have not suffered because of the dispute.

"Trade has been booming and we have a long-standing affinity with America," he

He rejected the contention that the Nixon notes were intended more for domestic consumption than for Nixon.

"That is manifestly incorrect," he said. "They were voiced as very deep seated convictions. I voiced the feelings of very many people and from all over the world, not the least America, I received responses which were very heartening.

Turning to domestic politics, he said he would never form a coalition with the Communists, and he did not foresee calling elections next traditional eating habits of Americans are rapidly disappearing in this age of fast foods and convenience meals and as a result a nutritionist says we're not getting all the vitamins and minerals we should.

Fast food era cutting U.S. short on nutrition

"The three times a day meal eating pattern of yesteryear (pre World War II) is vanishing," said Dr. Paul A. Lachance, of the Rutgers University Department of Food Science.

The ideal pattern is envisioned as breakfast, lunch and dinner with coffee breaks or after school snacks and a snack before bedtime, he said. The real situation is that many eat little or no break- said tests reveal marginal infast, Mom may skip lunch be- sufficiencies of vitamins A gets vitamin C out of jam, may eat a heavy business lunch, the children may eat heavily after school and the main evening meal may be small. Then there may be heavy snacking of all kinds of food while the family watches television at night.

"The sacred meal is dinner and theoretically it is eaten seven days a week," said Lachance. "In reality, it can be as seldom as three days a week or less."

As a result, he said dietary surveys have revealed that a significant percentage of Americans, both poor and well-to-do, do not consume all the vitamins and minerals they need. In particular, he and calcium.

'The housewife is at a total loss in how to meet nutritional needs in the reality of today's individualized eating patterns with foods that fit these patterns," Lachance said at a dinner sponsored by the Vitamin Information

He said the responsibility for providing the necessary nutrition is shifting to the food manufacturer and the food service establishments. They should put the nutrition into some of the convenience foods. Lachance said, by adding vitamins and minerals in small amounts to foods that would be expected to have that kind of nutrition.

"If the housewife thinks she cause she is on a diet, Dad and C and the minerals iron she should get it," he said in an interview.

> Lachance said the knowledge and technology is now available to provide the "most nutritious components for three square and fast food meals ever." But he said many food companies are not doing this.

"Currently, the food industry is catering to the American way of life but not aggressively catering to the betterment of the consumer."

The federal Food and Drug Administration recently directed the nation's bakeries to double the iron content in white bread. The order was issued at the request of the American Bakers Association and Lachance said it was a step in the right direction.

Funny Car elite gather at OMS this weekend

Funny Car drivers, headed by defending champion Jim Dunn, is being asembled for the 4th annual Supernationals of drag racing at Ontario Motor Speedway next weekend.

Nearly 50 of the plastic-bodied, 225 mph machines already are entered in the $177,000 classic which has drawn an overall field of more than 200 toprated drivers who will battle for five separate championships.

Dunn, who won the Funny Car crown updated version of the unique rear-engine machine he drove to victory in 1972, and will be attempting to become the event's first repeat winner. The Plymouth-boded car one of the few rear-engine Funny Cars in drag racing and the only one of its kind to ever win a major championship.

A Los Angeles County fireman from La Mirada, Calif., Dunn will be facing one of the strongest fields of Funny Cars ever assembled, including champions Frank Hall and Don Prudhomme, both of whom are listed among the pre-race favorites along Prudhomme, a veteran Funny Car and fuel dragster pilot from Granada Hills currently is enjoying one of his finest seasons in several years. He won the Funny Car U. S. National Championship on Labor Day, adding that title to his list of three National Champions in Top Fuel.

Hall, a relative newcomer from Kirkland, Wash., moved into the drag racing limelight last month by winning the 1973 World Championship at Amarillo, Tex. He will be driving Jim Green's "Green Elephant," a 1973 Vega-bodied machine that carried him to victory in the World Finals.

Other top ranked drivers in the field include veterans Tom McEwen and Leroy Goldstein, Danny Ongais, Sush Matsubara, two-time National champion Ed McCulloch, Bobby Rowe, Don Schumacher, Jim Nicoll, Tom Prock, Richard Tharp, Willie Borsch, 18-year old Billy Meyer and Dale Emery.

In addition to the Funny Car championship, which will be worth approximately $20,000 to the winner, Supernationals titles will also be at stake in Top Fuel, Pro Stock, Pro Comp and Pro Bike Eliminator categories, the latter for fuel-burning motorcycles. Only the sport's professional racing categories will be featured in the three-day meet.

Limahelu jokes no longer funny

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Until the ninth game of University of Southern California's season, John McKay liked to joke about Chris Limahelu.

"The only reason he's on our team," McKay quipped, "is because he went to high school with my daughters."

Limahelu did, indeed, attend South Hills High School in Covina, Calif., McKay's home city, with the veteran coach's two daughters.

But McKay won't be able to tell that story any more. The pint-sized place kicker with the funny sounding last name has earned a spot in USC football history.

A senior sociology major who was born in Indonesia and learned how to kick in Holland, Limahelu booted a 34yard field goal with only three seconds left Saturday to give the No. 9-ranked Trojans an astonishing 27-26 comefrom-behind victory over Stanford's Cardinals.

Insuring that its Nov. 24 game at UCLA will be for the Rose Bowl, USC won after trailing 26-17 with 3:10 to Limahelu's last-second heroics came just four seasons after Ron Ayala beat Stanford 26-24 on a last-second field goal of (you guessed it) 34 yards.

"Stanford played well enough to win," acknowledged McKay Sunday. "So did we. Most of the time. But we made so many mistakes."

Six to be exact. Four fumbles and two passes intercepted. With two weeks of its season left, the defending national champions now are 7-1-1. More importantly, they're 5-0 in the Pacific-8, the same record as UCLA's wishbone Bruins, who won 27-7 at Oregon Saturday.

Since Stanford is 3-2 and in third place in the league, it doesn't matter what USC does at Washington next Saturday. Likewise, UCLA, which is home against Oregon State next weekend. Will McKay's players have the prop### er enthusiasm for a Washington that is 2-7? Especially when the game is meaningless.

"Yes, I'm sure they will," he replied. "They know any team in this league has proven it can beat you and they don't want to lose. It's no fun los-

Against Washington, one-half of the

Bruins were well prepared

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - When UCLA ran up 355 yards on the ground-on sloppy, artificial turf during a heavy rain-against the Pacific-8's leading defensive team against the rush, it wasn't for lack of preparation.

"The coaches kept telling us all week," said Bruin quarterback Mark Harmon, "that if we were really a championship team, we'd have to win a game in bad weather.

"You know, if there'd been sunshine, we would have been disappointed."

UCLA's week-long practice on its 20by-30 yard section of artificial turf, watered down every day paid off, however, as the Bruins sloshed their way to a 27-7 victory over Oregon on a cold and dark Saturday in Eugene.

They came out of the game having lost only one of two fumbles, while the Ducks lost three of four mishandlings, two of them which proved costly.

It was the Bruins' eighth straight victory and ran their conference record to 5-0, the same as rival University of Southern California, which got a last-minute field goal to salvage a 27-26 trimming of Stanford.

The UCLA and USC wins set up a Nov. 24 meeting, with the Rose Bowl invitation going to the winner.

Coach Pepper Rodgers, whose Bruins ran over Stanford 59-13 earlier this year, said of the Trojan getaway, "Whatever happened to USC has no bearing on us. We still have to beat Oregon State and USC to go to the Rose Bowl.

"Even if USC had lost, we still would have to beat them."

Both UCLA, after Oregon State, and USC, after Washington, figure to bring perfect records into their head-to-head

The UCLA wishbone was forced to the ground by the rain, but Kermit Johnson collected 146 yards and Charlie Schuhmann ran for 70, including a one-yard scoring carry.

Rams still lead NFC West, 29-7

By MIKE RAWLINSON P-B Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES - Whatever the Rams had and lost, they regained Sunday afternoon at the Coliseum to keep one jump ahead of the streaking Atlanta Falcons in the NFC West.

It looked like L.A.'s magic was gone for good early in a contest the New Orleans Saints needed badly to remain in contention.

Jim Bertelsen's punt returns, John Hadi's passes, Lawrence McCutcheon's running, and some defensive gems turned into an avalanche that buried the Saints, 29-7, before a gleeful throng

The fight in the West is now strictly between the Rams and the Falcons, who beat Philadelphia, 44-27, to remain one game behind L.A. The Saints dropped three full games off the pace, while San Francisco, the Rams' opponent next weekend at the Coliseum, fell four games back in a 33-9 loss to Washington.

L.A. balanced its offensive attack as Hadl (13-25-1) accounted for 221 yards and a TD passing, and Ram runners, led by Lawrence McCutcheon's 115 yards, piled up an additional 212 for 433 yards total offense.

The Saints managed 220 yards - 124 rushing and 96 passing. Most of the latter coming on one long bomb.

"You saw the game," New Orleans head coach John North exclaimed. "They (the Rams) simply beat the hell out of us and it's really that simple. They are a better team than we are."

Apparently heading towards its third loss in a row early in the contest, the Rams turned the game around with a 16-point second period.

Borrowing a play from Hadl and Harold Jackson, New Orleans quarterback Archie Manning connected with a wide receiver named Jubilee Dunbar on a 64-yard pass play to take a 7-0 lead with 0:09 elapsed in the second

Getting a 32-v ard return by Rob Scribner on the kickoff which followed the score, the Rams moved 67 yards in nine plays to position David Ray for a 19-yard field goal that sliced the lead in the second period set the Rams up for a 40-yard drive which resulted in Bertelsen's two-yard run for the goahead touchdown.

Bertelsen, gained only 10 yards on eight carries from scrimmage as he had trouble with his footing. But the Texan returned three punts for 77 yards before he left the game late in the third period with strained ligaments in his knee. The injury was not believed to be serious.

"I've had a problem all year with my footing," Bertelsen said later. "I don't like the idea of wearing longer cleats to remedy that because there is the danger of hurting the knee by snagging the cleats in the turf. I'm not sure what the answer is."

Running mate McCutcheon didn't share Bertelsen's problem keeping his balance. Lawrence carried the ball 21 times for a 5.5 average and caught three Hadl passes for 34 yards and an 18-yard touchdown. Jack Snow and Jackson caught three also.

Hadi's TD pass gave L.A. a 16-7 lead at intermission. It was the result of a jarring tackle by cornerback Eddie McMillan on running back Howard Stevens, forcing a fumble that Fred Dryer recovered. It was Dryer's second fumble recovery of the half. New Orleans fumbled five times all day. The Rams got three of them.

From the New Orleans 48, Hadl moved the Rams to the 18 on a 30-yard strike to Jackson. Three plays later he hit McCutcheon at the goal line. Ray's conversion try was blocked.

Ray kicked his second and third field goals of the game in the third period. The first, an 11-yarder, capped the opening series of the half as the Rams moved 74 yards 12 plays to set it up.

Ray added an eight-yard field goal with about five minutes remaining, to give the Rams a 22-7 lead. Hadl's 46vard pass to Jackson was the key play in the drive which started at the Ram 34 after Bertelsen's 22-yard punt re-

Bertelsen positioned the Rams again for the final scoring drive of the day late in the period, running a New Orleans punt back 34 yards to the Saint 25. Short passes from Hadl to Jackson, Larry Smith and Snow gave L.A. a first and goal at the one, where Tony Baker busted over. Rav's conversion accounted for the final score.

Rams' Stukes gets game ball

That was nice. His wife, Gloria, would appreciate that. He'd save it and someday the kids, Syreath, four, and Sheri, one, would also get a kick out of Defensive backs are not universal heroes. More often they draw criticism whenever an opposing quarterback completes a pass.

But the biggest event occurred after the Rams had cooled off the hot New Crleans Saints, 29-7.

Stukes was awarded the game ball, an honor reserved for a very special performance.

"That's something, isn't it," he grinned as he stood in front of his locker in the corner of the dressing room. Across the room, a crowd of writers gathered around John Hadl. Another group surrounded Jim Bertelsen, and still a third, really the second wave, pushed close to coach Chuck Knox in Stukes was happy that three writers came by to talk with him and offer congratulations. He usually doeen't see that many unless the defense has been burned by the opposition.

Charlie Stukes really does appear to be modest and unassuming. He never batted an eye when he was interviewed on the post-game radio show and the announcer pronounced his name "Stucks." (It's Stewks).

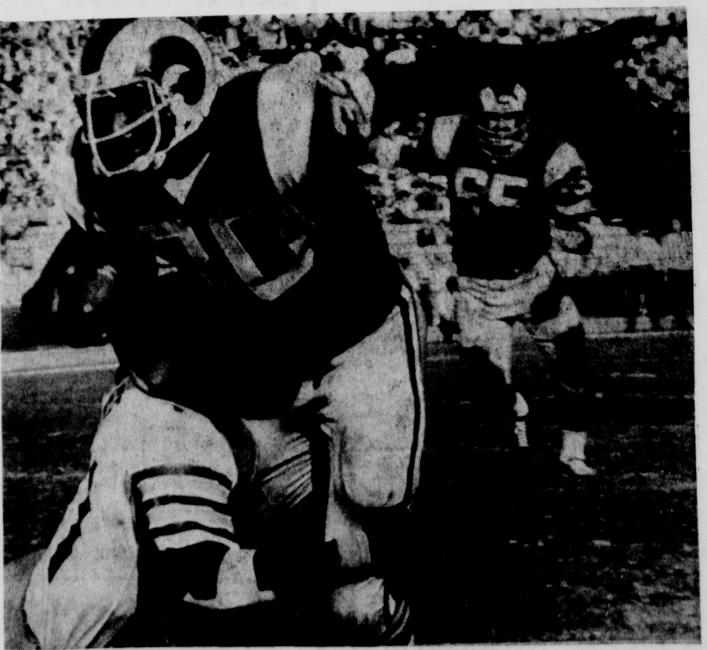

When asked about the apparent Ram decline in losses to Minnesota and Atlanta, he shrugged and smiled, "well you just have to keep hustling and trying and waiting for things to turn around again."

The one word, "waiting," may be the key to why the seven-year veteran is a winning ball player. He didn't say "hoping" for things to turn around. He said "waiting."

In Sunday's game in the first quarter, New Orleans had something going after Hadl's first pass had been intercepted. With a third and eight on the Rams' 38-yard line, Saints quarterback Archie Manning scrambled for 23

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) - Goalie Tony Esposito turned away 20 Los Angeles shots to post his second straight shutout and the 49th of his NHL career Sunday night as the Chicago Black Hawks blanked the Kings 3-0.

It has now been 121 minutes and 58 seconds since Los Angeles scored on Esposito. The Black Hawks' netminder has been in goal every minute of Chicago's 14 matches this

Same old story with the Chargers

DENVER (UPI) - Ron Waller started his head coaching career with the San Diego Chargers the same way Harlan Svare's ended-with a feeling of disappointment.

Last week, Svare resigned as coach of the Chargers in the midst of his second season and with San Diego buried in last place in the AFC West at 1-6-1.

"We have better players here now than we did a year ago," said Svare, who went on a wheeling-dealing expedition that brought San Diego plenty of aged veterans. "I don't know how to explain our record."

"I am really disappointed," Waller said. "I really felt we could have won this game. If we had won it I thought we might turn the damn thing around."

The Chargers' doom came with 3:18 to play and Denver leading 23-19. Ron Smith fumbled a punt at his own 23 and Denver recovered. The Broncos ran the clock down

Rockets obtain former Trojan

HOUSTON (UPI)-The Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association Friday traded veteran center Otto Moore to the Kansas City-Omaha Kings for former Southern California star Ron Riley, who celebrates his 23rd birthday today, is the leading rebounder in USC history. The second year pro averaged 8.4 points and 6.9 rebounds as a rookie.

Moore, a 6-foot-11 six-year veteran who began his pro career at Detroit, had played with the Rockets since last year. He was acquired from Phoenix in exchange for a first round draft choice.

Moore 27, averaged 11.7 points per game and 10.6 rebounds last year. SO far this year in 25 minutes of playing time per game he had averaged 5.6 points and 6.9 rebounds per game.

to 48 seconds before Floyd Little bulled his way one yard for his second touchdown of the game.

"I thought the turning point was Ron's fumble," Waller said. "We had a lot of steam and the offense was ready to go back in. I felt we would have scored if they had gotten in."

On the game's opening play, quarterback Wayne Clark pitched to wide receiver Ron Holliday who fired a pass that was picked off by Denver's Calvin Jones and returned 31 yards to the San Diego 11. Two plays later, Little ran 11 yards for the opening touchdown.

Denver added a 39-yard Jim Turner field goal and with less than five minutes gone in the game, the Broncos led 10-0.

San Diego's Ray Wersching booted a 26-yard field goal; Turner tried to pass on a muffed field goal attempt and Charger defensive tackle Coy Bacon ran 80 yards with the interception for a touchdown; and Robert Holmes scampered 18 yards as San Diego headed for the locker room

"We got a little too fat and sassy," Bronco Coach John Ralston said. "During that first half I kept remembering a year ago in San Diego when Randy Montgomery ran back the opening kickoff for the score and we got beat 37-14."

Endurance lead to Gilbert

PINEHURST, N. C. (UPI) - If the World Open golf championship were a standard 72-hole tournament, Gibby Gilbert would be putting a cool $100,000 in the bank to-

But 72 holes is just the halfway mark for the $500,000 marathon event, richest in golf history. So Gilbert who shot a one-under-par 70 Sunday for a five-stroke lead after four rounds, doesn't have a dime vet.

Today and Tuesday he will be trying to relax and polish his game at the Pinehurst Country Club, getting ready him feel the pressure? for the second 72 holes starting Wednesday.

The 32-year-old pro, whose victory in the 1970 Houston Open was his only triumph in six years on the tour, started tween, say, $35,000 and $100,- out with a course record 62, 000 can't matter too nine under par, in the opening round and survived a pair of 74s to hold the lead in every round so far.

While conceding that he certainly would be happier if the World Open lasted but four days, the sandy-haired pro says he's not overly unhappy that it isn't.

"This is the first time I've ever lead a tournament for four rounds," Gilbert said. "Every day, I'm proving something to myself.'

Does the thought of a fat $100,000-about twice his year's winnings to date-still being 72 holes away make

"Not too much, not the $100,000 anyway," he said. "Me. I never got into any big money in my life.

"But the difference be-much-it's all big. I just want to win so I can win...though the $100,000 is sure nice."

Golf he said, "is a mental game. You can psyche yourself into doing things and that's great."

He reported that was exactly what he did starting on hole No. 6 at Pinehurst's 7.007-vard No. 2 course for his first birdie.

"I just told myself I birdied it in the opening round and I was doing it again," he said. "I did."

He had a bogie, though, on No. 8, but pulled back below par with a birdie on the par three, 187-yard No. 17 hole, hitting a seven iron to within seven feet, then putting in.

Runners up at the halfway point were veteran Al Geiberger, 1966 PGA champion, and tour sophomore Tom Watson.

were bunched at 287, seven strokes off the pace. Mike McCullough with a 71 Sunday and Miller Barber with a 74 stood at 289. The field, which started 240 strong, was cut to 74 players after Sunday's round, with the cut being at 298, 14 over par. Among those dropped from the field were Australian Bruce Crampton, the tour's second ranking money winner this year, and Argentine star Roberto DeVicenzo, both missing by one stroke.

Gary Player of South Africa, a pre-tourney favorite, had a 75 Sunday for 293. Veteran Arnold Palmer was 75-295, and rookie star Ben Crenshaw was 75 - 294.

Both shot three-under-par 68s Sunday, best score turned in for the day, to tie at one-over-"It's still anybody's tournament," said Watson. "Any-

"It wasn't a jinx that beat us out there today," said Baltimore Coach Howard Schnellenberger, an assistant at Miami last season. "We were badly outclassed by a fine Miami football team, They dominated every phase of the game."

The Steelers call their defense, "the Steel Curtain", and it slammed down on Oakland with a thud. Listed as six-point underdogs despite losing only one game, the Steelers dropped Oakland quarterbacks five times, intercepted four passes and forced two crucial intentional grounding penalties.

Defensive end Dwight White's interception set up Terry Hanratty's 14-yard TD pass to Ron Shanklin and Mike Wagner's fumble recovery set the stage for Franco Harris one-yard TD

As it turned out, Harris, who made a spectacular catch and run with a deflected pass in the playoffs to beat Oakland with five seconds left, again was the Steeler hero since his TD provided the margin of victory. Daryle Lamonica passed 27 yards to Fred Biletnikoff in the final period for Oakland's gained 80 of his 102 yards in do more than they did tolone TD.

"This was probably our best game defensively," said Steeler Coach Chuck Noll. "We beat them under tough conditions. It was another in a string of good games for Oakland Coach John Madden called it, "a difficult loss but we have no excuses. As a team we didn't play well enough."

The Cowboys remained tied with Washington for first in the NFC East as Charlie Waters intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble to set up scores. Dallas capitalized on eight turnovers to hand New York its seventh straight loss, with Walt Garrison scoring twice.

Lee, unbeaten since taking over as Atlanta quarterback, threw a 12-yard TD pas to Ken Burrow and set up two other TDs.

Horst Muhlmann's 33-yard field goal with three seconds left lifted Cincinatti over Buffalo and Don Cockroft's three field goals and a short scoring plunge by Mike Phipps helped the Browns hand Houston its eighth loss in nine

Reinvestments of dividends

By ROGER SPEAR

Could you explain how the dividend reinvestment plan works? I am interested in buying two or three issues, yielding 5 per cent or better, which offer dividend reinvestment privileges. Are there any stocks which meet these specifications?

A — From its origination in 1967, when Allegheny Power Systems in conjunction with First National Citibank offered sharholders the option of having dividends reinvested in additional shares, this automatic investment service has garnered a number of supporters. The way the plan works is that the corporation pays to the cooperating bank dividends which would normally be sent directly to the participating shareholder. The bank in turn purchases shares with the cash from all the participants in that corporation's plan, which results in a savings on commission fees for the individual subscriber. The bank holds these shares unless instructed otherwise. In addition to sharing commission costs, members must pay a service charge up to a $3.00 maximum.

The advantages of such a program are multiple: acquisition of shares at a reduced sales fee, dollar-cost-averaging of purchases, safekeeping of certificates and enforced savings. In some instances the plan subscriber has the option to add up to $1,000 in cash monthly to the plan. While Citibank still handles most of these plans, a number of other banks have joined the ranks as agents for some of the more than 200 companies allowing their stockholders to automatically reinvest dividends.

Using your specifications for selecting possible candidates for purchase, the list is rather extensive. However, by including only those companies whose dividends and earnings have increased annually for the past 5 years; the field is narrowed. From this group I have selected American Brands, Central & South West and United Telecommunications, all listed on the Big Board. Over the last 5 years earnings have increased an average of 6 per cent to 8 per cent annually and in the last decade dividend growth has exceeded that rate.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) -"Gallup polls over the past several months have shown that while people regard inflation as they also are coming to regard controls as public enemy number one," says Argus Weekly Staff Report. Controls will be softened between now and the end of the year bethe letter predicts. This easgyration in some prices as businessmen scurry to raise their list prices before controls are tightened again," it

As the economy shows signs of slowing sooner than expected, "a more bearish forecast is not yet a necessity, but it's tougher to be a bull on business and profits than it was a few months ago," according to First National City Bank. Among the hard evidence of a slowdown, real national production rose at only 3 per cent during the spring and summer, an actual decline has occurred in the volume of goods purchases, and the sharp dip in the money stock late in October. "The Fed could set the growth of the nominal money stock on the right course...only to be frustrated by an inflationary erosion of real cash balances," it adds.

The relationship between the stock market and inflation has long fascinated both investors and scholars, and the National Bureau of Economic Research now is making a study of the impact of soaring prices on all financial markets, according to Argus Research Corp. The National Bureau's recent progress report on the study says "in many cases stocks do not keep up with prices in the initial stages of an inflation and often they decline in the terminal stages," the firm notes. In the long run, however, the report says stocks provide a hedge against inflation after a long lag, Argus adds.

The September-October rally was characterized by a lack of dynamism, miserable breadth, and a lack of followthrough by the Dow Jones Industrials suggesting "a last gasp blowoff," says Lynch, Jones & Ryan. "Timing would dictate a major low to be reached no earlier than the second quarter of 1974, somewhere in the area of 700 in the Dow Jones Industrials," the firm continues. This decline will include across-theboard deterioriation with glabeating and secondary issues exhibiting marked vulnerability, it adds.

NEW YORK (UPI) -"The consolidation pattern which had started to occur over two weeks ago but which was public worry number one, whipsawed by last week's news developments seems likely to resume in the days ahead," according to E.F. Hutton. The firm says the market could easily retreat to the 960 area of the Dow Jones cause of their unpopularity, Industrial Average or even sink to the 949 level. "But on a chart," the firm adds, will continue to look like a laconsolidation of the sharp mid-September to mi-

> "The most recent economic statistics are suggestive of a more sudden and pronounced weakening than even we are expecting, and they bear very careful monitoring in the weeks ahead," says Lionel D. Edie & Co. The firm cites the softening of demand for cars and other consumer items, drop off in new orders for durable goods, and the slump in housing starts. Despite the disagreement among economic forecasters regarding when the economy has or will peak, "the best bet continues to be the 'soft landing' scenario wherein the growth rate of the total economy will turn out to have been saucershaped during 1973 and 1974,"

A Mideast cease-fire will not necessarily turn the oil taps back on again, according to Research Institute Recommendations. "The war exacerbated existing problems," the letter says, since "the U.S. was drifting into an oil confrontation with the Arabs before the war clouds gathered." The short-run economic problems raised by the Arab cutback will deter further U.S. dependence on Mideast oil and force the nation to seek alternative means of deriving energy, it adds.

Hemphill, Noyes, Inc. says 1973 may be a "vintage year" for yearend tax savings. "Perhaps history will prove that many depressed stocks and bonds have been quoted around 'bargain' levels and could stage further price rebounds," the firm says, "but in the meantime there are loads of 'tax losses' availgains," the firm says. To gensuggests switching out of a depressed security into a more promising issue, doubling up momentarily in a good stock whose price has mours taking the hardest dropped, and selling a security at a loss and then waiting 31 calendar days before buying back the same issue.
